The quality of any journal is entirely dependent on the rigorous assessment of submitted articles by reviewers. The policy of this journal is to obtain at least two reviews for each submitted article and the editorial team gratefully acknowledge the help of the following, who have all reviewed for the Journal of Hand Surgery (European Volume) during 2022. In particular, the editors would like to acknowledge that our reviewers continue to provide prompt, high-quality reviews and the average time for completion of reviews is less than 14 days, which allows the first response time from editors to authors to remain short at an average of 23 days.
